Suggested Location Placement

G — Daiyu's Tea Garden
LOCATION
North. West.
You could get a good cup of tea there, but Daiyu's establishment was better known for its vicious mahjong games and the cutthroat women that played them.
C H

H — Zihao's House of Fighting Arts
LOCATION
North.
You'd seen photos of Johnson and Dempsey thrashing lesser men in the papers before, but you'd never quite seen fighting like the kind that took place in these walls.
E G I

I — Flea Market
LOCATION
North. East. Dark.
While it operated under the guise of a collection of foreign traders, the flea market in the northeast of Chinatown was a well known source of the kind of merchandise you didn't advertise.
H

C — Back Alley
LOCATION
West. Dark.
There's probably not a city in the world where an unlit avenue is a smart place to go, but it's the shortest path from point C to point I.
B G

D — Golden Temple of the Heavens
LOCATION
Central.
It didn't take much fluency to understand that this small building was the heart of the district. For those that sought the advice of destiny, there was no thought of another oracle.
B C E

E — Mingzhu Laundry
LOCATION
South.
There was really no better place in the city to get that dirt out of your suit, even if the transaction did require a bit of verbal improvisation.
A D H

B — The Phoenix's Nest
LOCATION
East.
Known outside the district for its chop suey, the Phoenix's Nest served a wide variety of food you've never heard of.
A C D

A — Gateway to the East
LOCATION
South. East.
"I'm astounded by people who want to 'know' the universe when it's hard enough to find your way around Chinatown."
-Woody Allen
